SHOP.com switches from Omniture to Google Analytics for better insights, conversions and value

SHOP.COM is one of the largest online shopping sites offering millions of products from thousands of trusted merchants and brands, all housed in a single location. For a company that delivers curated advice from shopping experts to save shoppers money, measuring site and product performance is critical. Understanding internal site search, category, and product performance and knowing they can rely on accurate data is paramount. SHOP.COM needed an analytics consultant to co-ordinate their transition from Adobe SiteCatalyst to Google Analytics.

Challenges with Existing Analytics Tool

- In-house developed tools were complex
- High annual costs and maintenance
- Cost prohibitive training
- Incomplete reporting
- Limited visibility into performance of SEM traffic sources
- "Out-of-the-box" Google Analytics reporting and goal configuration features didn't meet their needs.

Solution

SHOP.COM now has a reporting and analytics solution that is free, easy to use, and fully configured to gain actionable insights.

Blast Advanced Media, a Google Analytics Certified Partner, worked with the SHOP.COM team to understand their business goals and analysis objectives. With SHOP.COM's extensive product offerings and traffic, they have more product pageviews than Google Analytics can handle with a basic implementation.

Blast worked with their team to develop and implement a custom tracking strategy that would both meet their analysis objectives and provide for easy access to reports containing actionable insight.

About Blast Advanced Media

• www.blastam.com

Blast was able to integrate multiple Google AdWords accounts with their Google Analytics profiles to provide cost and conversion data that was previously not available.

The transition to a custom Google Analytics configuration met all of their existing reporting needs as well as met new reporting goals that weren't previously available. SHOP.COM gained better visibility into their many SEM traffic sources and millions of products in their marketplace. The end result was a successful implementation that exceeded SHOP.COM's expectations.

Knowledge is Power

Now, with Google Analytics advanced features including profiles, goals, ecommerce tracking, on-site search tracking and more, the SHOP.COM team will get the information they need to make timely business decisions that has already improved their on-site experience and conversions.

"The Blast Team did a remarkable job of understanding our business needs and guiding us to build a solution leveraging Google Analytics. They provided clear and concise direction under a very tight schedule. The end result is that we now have tools in place that help us measure the ROI of all our web site changes."

- Vince Hunt, Chief Operating Officer SHOP.COM

Google Analytics is providing multiple benefits:

- Free access to data with no ongoing yearly licensing fee
- Custom reporting, conversion funnel and analysis features with no cost, saving SHOP.COM thousands of dollars
- Fully integrated multiple Google Adwords accounts, providing consolidated insight to the marketing team
- A more intuitive user interface
- Reduced training costs • Ease of access to information for multiple departments
- Easy to setup separate data views for those with limited access levels

Making the Switch

If you're considering making the switch from an analytics solution like Adobe SiteCatalyst, Webtrends or Coremetrics to Google Analytics, there can be many benefits to doing so. Especially, if you get an expert to help you take advantage of the full spectrum of features and capabilities.

Blast's entire online marketing team is Google certified and knows these solutions inside and out.
